

2nd International Conference on Food Properties (iCFP 2016)

31 May – 2 June 2016

Bangkok, Thailand

Superior Foods through Smarter use of Food Properties

4 January 2016

Re: Call for Papers (Abstract Submission Extended)

Dear President, Dean, Department Head

May the “2016 New Year” bring you greater heights of success and prosperity! On behalf of the committee of the 2nd International Conference on Food Properties (iCFP 2016), I would like to extend the invitation to you and your colleagues to submit the abstract to iCFP 2016.

The iCFP is a platform for professionals in the field of food properties for sharing knowledge, innovative ideas, and research achievements. The first conference was held on 24-26 January 2014, Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. This year theme is the utilization of food properties for food security. The four focuses of this conference are: physico-chemical, kinetic, sensory and health properties of foods. Selected papers will be considered for possible publication in the International Journal of Food Properties (Taylor and Francis, New York, indexed in ISI and Scopus) after reviews.
